We talked about Type 1 Diabetes is, and importantly, what it is NOT. We also discussed how we can be awesome friends by supporting, understanding, and cheering on those who live with it everyday.

🌟 Our Superstars 🌟

A huge shout-out to our 2 children with diabetes. Not only are they awesomely brave every single day, but today they were absolute superstars. They shared how they manage their own bodies, even showing some of the cool gadgets they have.

We are so incredibly proud of them for their bravery and openness.

We hope everyone has a much better understanding of diabetes now. A massive thank you to our 2 brave superheroes.
